Travel Style

Our Self-Guided Walking Adventures are ideal for travelers with an independent spirit who enjoy exploring at their own pace. We provide authentic accommodations, luggage transfers, and some meals, along with comprehensive Route Notes, detailed maps, and 24-hour emergency assistance. This gives you the freedom to focus on the things that matter to you—no group, no guide, and no set schedule to stand in the way of enjoying your adventure, your way.

Overview

One of Italy's most blessed regions, the Sorrentine Peninsula and nearby Isle of Capri seemingly have it all—history, elegance, authentic villages, dramatic coastal scenery, and untouched wild places—all interconnected by a wide network of walking trails that remain just out of view of the more touristed places. From Sorrento, Capri, Positano, and Ravello, you slip out of elegant town squares into a landscape of age-old terraces of lemon and olive groves and onto high ridges with sweeping views of the sparkling Mediterranean. You'll explore at your own pace, wandering through whitewashed villages and climbing hillside trails dotted with wild herbs to stunning cliff-top promontories before reaching sumptuous villa gardens. Elegant hotels capture the glamour and old-world style that have drawn visitors for centuries on a Grand Tour, an artist's retreat, or a jet-setting jaunt. And finally, you can savor the authentic flavors of Italy's best-known dishes in their place of origin—the freshest and most local vegetables feature in mouthwatering pizza, pasta, and seafood, perhaps accompanied by icy-cold sweet limoncello.

Daily Itinerary

DAY 1

Arrival in Sorrento

Your tour starts in Sorrento—the buoyant small city perched on the southern coast of the Bay of Naples, with its long tradition as a destination in the Grand Tour of European travel. Its bustling seaport attests to the many ways to arrive here—by ferry, train, or bus from Naples and beyond. You may relax by the hotel swimming pool, soaking in the view, before an orientation meeting and then dinner at a local restaurant.

Hotel Minerva, Sorrento

This four-star hotel, located in a quiet Sorrento neighborhood, overlooks the sea and provides easy access to walking trails, public transport, and sights. Spacious guest rooms are individually decorated with tiled floors and Mediterranean-inspired colors. A rooftop swimming pool with chaise lounges, umbrellas, and a pergola, features truly stunning views over the entire Bay of Naples, island of Capri, and Mt. Vesuvius. The restaurant and bar, with indoor and outdoor seating, are equally scenic and serve the region's fresh cuisine. Also on site is a fitness center.

DAY 2

Sant'Agata–Torca loop on the Sirenuse Trail; 6.3 miles, easy to moderate with challenging sections, 1,300-ft. elevation gain and 1,300-ft. elevation loss.

Afternoon option: Sant'Agata to Sorrento; 2.8 miles, easy to moderate, 250-ft. elevation gain and 1300-ft. elevation loss

Your exploration of the Sorrentine Peninsula—the landmass extending from Italy's west coast out to the Isle of Capri—begins with a loop walk along its southerly flank, providing almost constant views of the Sirenuse Islands, the tiny group of islands named for the Sirens of Greek mythology. A short transfer brings you up to the trailhead in the charming town of Sant'Agata, like Sorrento also a 19th-century destination. The route takes you past homes and gardens to the hamlet of Torca, then through narrow alleyways and out onto open hillsides with ancient terraces of olives and low Mediterranean flora. With the shimmering sea always in view, you reach a beautiful panorama that stretches from the town of Praiano to the tip of the peninsula. Entering a hushed pine forest, you then continue back into the center of Sant'Agata. Following lunch at a restaurant of your choosing, you have the option to descend to your hotel in Sorrento on foot, or to take a public bus. This evening, you may choose to relax over the stunning views at your hotel or explore Sorrento's many excellent dining options.

Hotel Minerva, Sorrento

Isle of Capri; 2.8 miles + additional options, easy to moderate, 500-ft. elevation gain and 550-ft. elevation loss

Today is dedicated to exploring the enchanting Isle of Capri. You walk from your hotel to Sorrento's harbor, where you catch one of the frequent hydrofoils to the island, a 20-minute boat trip (we regret that we are not able to pre-pay for these tickets, so they are at your own expense). Upon arrival in Capri's Marina Grande, you take the funicular up to the main square—one of Italy's best-known and most elegant, with its chic outdoor cafés, boutiques, and shops. Several walking options depart from here and quickly take you from the bustling scene to the quiet “streets” of the island— narrow walkways that pass garden fences, overflowing with flowers and vegetables, in front of homes and villas. One option leads to a coastal walk to the Belvedere delle Noci viewpoint and the Natural Arch rock formation; you continue along a shaded trail where the views open onto the Faraglioni, the massive rocks jutting just off shore near the Marina Piccola. Above this tiny port, you stroll through the manicured Gardens of Augustus. You may choose to then walk down to the seaside for a swim in aquamarine waters or continue back to the square for a gelato before descending the stepped walkway or boarding the funicular down to Marina Grande. Here, there is the option of boarding a small boat for a tour around the island’s rocky coast and water-level caves, including the well-known Blue Grotto. You hop a return ferry back to Sorrento in the evening.

Hotel Minerva, Sorrento

Layover day in Sorrento: optional Massa Lubrense loop walk, 6.5 miles, easy to moderate with challenging sections, 1550-ft. elevation gain and 1,600-ft. elevation loss or optional visit to Pompeii or Herculaneum archaeological sites

Options today include staying in and around Sorrento, with many cultural or walking choices, or discovering the wider Gulf of Naples region with a visit to the archaeological sites of Pompeii or Herculaneum, an easy train ride of about 45 minutes from Sorrento’s train station. In Sorrento, you can easily explore its shady gardens and museums, as well as its pedestrian streets with their many shops, bars, and restaurants. The seashore at Cape Sorrento, a short bus ride or easy walk, has a beach area for swimming and lounging as well as natural rocks and Roman ruins. The day’s (highly recommended!) walking option takes you through the small streets and paths of the town of Massa Lubrense, stretching over the western tip of the Sorrentine Peninsula. The route meanders through tiny hamlets under centuries-old stands of lemon and olive trees; narrow paths pass old villas and town squares. For lunch, you can stop in Termini at a favorite local trattoria serving fresh pasta dishes, or at a larger restaurant with views of Capri, or perhaps enjoy your own picnic overlooking the Bay of Sirens. You continue on through Annunziata with its stunning panorama over the Gulf of Naples at the Villa Murat, home to Gioacchino Murat— Napoleon’s general and King of Naples—and then down to the small fishing port of Marina della Lobra, perfect timing for a freshly squeezed lemonade or gelato before the last stretch back to Massa Lubrense where you catch a private transfer back to your hotel in Sorrento. Dinner is included this evening at a local seaside restaurant, located a short walk away in Sorrento’s picturesque port of Marina Grande.

Hotel Minerva, Sorrento

Transfer to Positano. Path of the Gods: Nocelle to Bomerano; 3.9 miles, moderate, 1300-ft. elevation gain and 800-ft. elevation loss. Transfer to Ravello

This morning, a scenic drive (approximately 40 minutes) takes you up and over the mountains to Positano, on the southern side of the Peninsula. Probably the Amalfi Coast’s best-known town, a fishing port since the 10th century, Positano began attracting artists and the jet set in the 1920s. Its brightly colored houses and 13th-century church spill dizzily down to its harbor and beaches, which you can explore before it gets busier later in the day. You then catch a local bus up to Nocelle, the hillside town where you begin your walk along the famous Path of the Gods, the route high above the Amalfi Drive with tremendous views—of the mountains that form the spine of the peninsula, the winding coast below with its jewel-like towns, and a brilliant blue Mediterranean. Dramatic limestone cliffs contrast with ancient stone terraces built into the steep hillsides growing olives and grapes. The walk ends in the village of Bomerano, where your private driver meets you for the transfer to Ravello, your home for the next three nights. Dinner tonight is a short walk away at a local restaurant overlooking the sea.

Hotel Villa Fraulo, Ravello

In Ravello’s privileged location overlooking the winding Amalfi coastline and Mediterranean, this historic four-star villa offers light and spacious guest rooms with tiled floors and classic décor, which is carried throughout the lounge and dining areas. Breathtaking sea views abound from guest rooms, the infinity pool and surrounding terrace. Local organic fare is featured in its restaurant, with alfresco dining and bar.

DAY 6

Upper Valley of the Mills to Pogerola; 6.5 miles, moderate with challenging sections, 1550-ft. elevation gain and 1700-ft. elevation loss. Afternoon option: Pogerola to Amalfi; 1.24 miles, easy to moderate, 1,050-ft. elevation loss

The elegant town of Ravello is perched tranquilly between mountains and sea. Rich in medieval art and architecture, its car-free cobblestone streets invite exploration of its enchanting villas and gardens, such as the 13th-century Villa Rufolo with its Moorish-inspired courtyard. You depart on foot this morning from your hotel to reach Scala, the Amalfi Coast's oldest town, and one of its six hamlets, tiny Minuta. From here, you start your walk into the Upper Valley of the Mills above Amalfi, a lush natural area with gurgling waterfalls and streams that once powered the small paper mills that were an important industry for Amalfi from the 13th century. The route alternates between shaded chestnut forest and views opening back to Ravello and down to the cultivated terraces above Amalfi, and arrives at the village of Pogerola, where you are invited into a family-run osteria for a savory lunch of homemade pasta and fresh seafood. Afterward, you can continue on foot along a steep ancient mule track, at one time the only connection between the tiny towns and farms (about an hour's walk into Amalfi), or catch a local bus. Amalfi was a prosperous Marine Republic in the Middle Ages, and you can stroll its main square with the 10th-century San Lorenzo church before a transfer returns you to Ravello.

Hotel Villa Fraulo, Ravello

Sambuco to Atrani via San Nicola; 5.9 miles, moderate, 1,350-ft. elevation gain and 2,500-ft. elevation loss. Afternoon option: Minori to Ravello; one-hour stair climbing, 1,150-ft. elevation gain

A short transfer brings you to the village of Sambuco, from where a path ascends gradually through quiet orchards and chestnut forest to the terrace of the former convent of San Nicola, with its panoramic views of the crest of the Amalfi Coast east towards Salerno, Ravello in the distance, and the town of Minori below. After soaking in the views, you continue along a path descending through lush lemon groves to a paved alleyway just above the village, connecting the towns of Minori and Maiori. Once in Minori, you can visit the Roman Maritime Villa that dates from the 1st century A.D. Returning to the route, after a short stretch on the Amalfi Drive, you can either take the steep steps up to Ravello (a steady, one-hour climb) or duck back onto a pathway through a cluster of lemon trees overlooking the sea, eventually reaching Atrani, Italy's smallest village—with its intriguing labyrinth of narrow streets and archways. From Atrani, you can choose to continue on foot through narrow alleyways to Amalfi or to catch a local bus back to Ravello (possible from either Atrani or Amalfi).

Hotel Villa Fraulo, Ravello

DAY 8

Departure from Naples

You depart Ravello this morning, transferring about an hour-and-a-half to the city of Naples for your onward connections.

ITINERARY CHANGES

Please bear in mind that this is a typical itinerary, and the actual activities, sites, and accommodations may vary due to season, special events, weather, or transportation schedules. We reserve the right to alter the itinerary, since tour arrangements are made up to a year in advance and unforeseen circumstances may arise that mandate change. Itinerary changes are made to improve the tour and your experience.

RESPONSIBLE TRAVEL

Country Walkers is a leader in active travel with responsible tourism an integral part of our core values. Our tours reflect our dedication to best travel practices—and to the preservation of indigenous cultures and the environment. Country Walkers has made a donation on behalf of every traveler to the CW Travelers Fund, which supports designated projects in the communities and habitats in which we travel. We invite you to learn more about our efforts and initiatives for giving back.

Here is one example that highlights our sustainable practices:

We put safety first on the Amalfi Coast. Country Walkers has made a donation on behalf of every tour participant to the local mountain-rescue team. The trails and ridges of the Sorrentine Peninsula, above the busy coast, are surprisingly unpopulated and represent a large area for the local mountain search-and-rescue corps to service while mainly relying on local volunteers and donations. Your contributions help the rescue team obtain and maintain equipment for rapid emergency response to aid visitors and locals alike.

ACTIVITY LEVEL

This tour is one of our Self-Guided Walking Adventures, rated moderate with challenging sections. Walks average 4-6 miles per day, with longer options on some days. A region defined by striking geography, elevation gains range from 500 feet to 1,550 feet while losses range from 550 feet to 2,500 feet. There are steep ascents and descents on terrain that includes loose gravel; steep, high, and ancient stone steps; old stone mule tracks; and asphalt. The Path of the Gods drops sharply on one side and is not recommended for anyone suffering from severe vertigo. A walking stick is highly recommended even if you do not usually use one. On almost every walk in this exuberant Mediterranean destination, you enjoy gorgeous coastal views of the Amalfi Coast, the Isle of Capri, and the Bay of Naples, also taking in evidence of history stretching from the Phoenicians and Greeks, through Roman and medieval periods, up through the 19th and 20th centuries.
